

NEW 2023-2024 MINISTRY OPTIONS SURVEY

It's time for a new Ministry Options survey and we hope everyone will take part! In the spring of 2022, we invited church members and friends to fill out a Ministry Options Survey to indicate the areas of church life they wanted to put their time and talents toward. The response was quite good. The Church Council and Pastor Scott were able to use the results to connect needed volunteers for specific ministries. From hosting Fellowship Hour, to maintaining Creekside Commons, to creating a Pastor Parish Relations Team and reestablishing a Congregational Care Team, your responses were put to work for the ongoing ministry of the church.

We are inviting everyone to participate again this program year. The survey once again has an incredible variety of ways that anyone, and everyone, can be involved in the ministry, mission, and service on behalf of the congregation. Many of the same ministry options remain and there are new opportunities that have risen in importance over the past year or two. Even if you filled out the survey last year, please fill it out again this year - there may be some things you would be willing to try now, that you weren't sure about last year, and maybe a new ministry to try, or even add your own new idea if you don't see something you believe we could be doing!

The ministry options are divided into different areas of our church represented by the Team Representatives on Church Council: Christian Education, Stewardship, Community Outreach, Liturgy, Staff Support and Review, Fellowship, and Property. It is an incredible collection of ministry actions that happen in our church every week, every month, and throughout the year. We are so fortunate to have talented members and friends that make our ministry happen in our church.

But it's not magic that these ministries are carried out. These things happen because folks like you are making them happen. Please click the button below to fill out the survey or you may complete a paper copy at church. Thank you for helping with the ongoing work of our church!
